Situations Guaranteed.

We do not guarantee situations to prospective students in order to get their patronage. Schools of merit do not resort to such dishonest practices. Fake schools "guarantee" situations in order to secure students, because they have no other inducements to offer. Our work is so thorough that a guarantee is superfluous. Business men are so eager to get competent help here that a large per cent. of our students take positions before they graduate. See us before making arrangements for your business and shorthand education at some inferior fake school. We will take pleasure in telling you all about the loopholes in the "position guarantees" of dishonest schools. Catalogue free.

The Use of Eggs.

WE have gleaned from the pages of other journals items of interest in the many uses for eggs outside of culinary and table purposes. Thousands of dozens are used in the manufacture of textile goods of many kinds. Bookbinders, enamellers, glaziers and paper hangers and paper finishers all use them.

Doctors oft-times make use of an egg with which to mix a mustard plaster that is to be applied to a small child or a tender spot where no blister is desired.

The white of an egg, if mixed with sugar and lemon may be successfully used to relieve hoarseness, croup or to relieve the pain of a sore throat. Too much of this cannot be taken to a reasonable extent, for it is quite nourishing and not nauseating to a weak stomach.

In securing jellies or fruits of any kind from the air, a piece of white glazed paper enameled with the white of an egg and laid over the top of a jelly glass or glass of fruit will protect it from the air. The same paper coated with the white of an egg and pasted over the top of a glass will seal it and keep the contents safe for winter use.

Many people who do not care to eat excessively, use a raw egg taken in the morning cup of coffee, in a glass of wine, or mixed with a little milk and sugar. Nothing could be more healthful for a morning meal than this. Some eat a whole raw egg with a little salt who can eat nothing else for breakfast.

If a bone or any substance becomes lodged in the throat and can not be removed, quickly swallow a raw egg and follow it with a piece of soft bread. If this can be worked through the passage way of the throat the obstruction will more than likely be removed.

The white of a raw egg will soothe the torture of a burn or scald. It is always at hand, may be quickly applied, and more than likely will prevent inflammation, and it quickly removes the burning sensation.

Grown people and children may gain quick relief from bowel trouble during the warm weather, if they will take a fresh-laid egg and whip it up just a little to mix the yolk with the white and swallow them raw. This will relieve the inflammation of the stomach. One may live for a day or two on this diet alone. Those who cannot swallow a raw egg should boil them not more than two minutes, turn them from the shell into a warm cup, season with a little pepper and salt and whip them up and drink while warm. This will serve the same purpose, although it is not the equal of the raw egg.

For a weak, delicate person, break two fresh eggs into a glass, whip these up with milk and a very little sugar, whip into this with a spoon a little sherry wine or brandy, and drink before breakfast. The most delicate person can take this and be nourished for almost the entire day. They have the combination of the two most complete foods—eggs and milk—and the benefit of the strengthening influence of the spirits. The egg and milk alone will work wonders without the spirits.—Feather.

The Smile

that won't come off, appears on baby's face after one bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge, the great worm medicine. Why not keep that smile on baby's face. If you keep this medicine on hand, you will never see anything else but smiles on his face. Mrs. S. Blackwell, Okla., writes: "My baby was peevish and fretful. Would not eat and I feared he would die. I used a bottle of White's Cream Vermifuge and he has not had a sick day since." Sold by Cook & Higgins.

Crop Bound Poultry

I SUPPOSE that sometime in every poultry raiser's life he has a crop bound fowl; it's not a common occurrence, but rather the exceptional, and rather a discouraging outlook generally. I have often heard people say, "The remedy I use is the ax." Some even open the crop and remove the substance clogged there, but that is unpleasant and it's not every one that has nerve to perform a surgical operation, for it has to be sewed up again, and the substance being sour and foul smelling, makes it most unpleasant. The causes are various, but I think the worst is eating old dead grass or long blades of hay, for the trouble usually comes in the winter. This winter one cold Sunday morning—and we on the shores of old Lake Michigan do have some cold mornings, even in a mild winter; that is why we have such a delightful climate for a summer resort—I detected on going into the poultry house a very bad odor. After a while I found that two of my ing great wads in their craws and making an effort to swallow it all the time. The day before I had let them scratch in some hay intended for horses, not chickens. Clover hay is what chickens need—what they can swallow of that is short and beneficial, but long hay is bad. Evidently they had eaten too much and it had formed into a wad that could not pass out.

I took them, one at a time, and gave them this treatment: First, I got a pint of quite warm water, with baking soda in it, put the fowl on my lap, with its feet stretched out behind it. I then took hold of its head with the left hand and opened its mouth with thumb and forefinger and with a teaspoon forced it to swallow about half of the amount; then I took it by the legs, and held it, head down, in a pail. The soda, correcting the acidity, caused it to run out of the fowl's mouth, cleansing the craw of some of its foulness; then I gave it the rest of the warm water, kneading the craw for some time. They were the worst cases I ever saw; being hay, it would not unpack; food will soon unpack, but hay or old grass has to be digested. I followed this treatment for two days, then I prepared water the same as before, but instead of the soda I used about five drops of Lee's Germazone, gave half as before, then turning them head down to wash out the remaining sour fluid, giving the remainder afterwards, still working the lump, and finally the lump commenced to shrink until, one morning I succeeded in pushing it down, and it was gone to stay. I did not give them any food for two days, then gave bread soaked in milk and plenty of grit. They ate greedily of the grit. It was on Saturday that they ate the hay and we forgot to order grit that day and it was Sunday that I found them in this condition. I know they did not have grit enough.

I only spent about ten minutes each day apiece treating them, and they certainly were worth that much time spent. They came out of it a little thin, but as healthy as ever. I kept them separated from the rest of the flock. Grit is very important. I have had chickens refuse to eat corn until they had all the grit they wanted; then they would eat the corn greedily.

Now, if you have chickens off their feed or crop bound and no lice, just give them a good lot of coarse grit to run to and it is almost sure to set them to eating again. I think that is one reason that chickens running at large are often healthier than those confined in pens or yards; they always find gravel or some coarse stuff to "grind" with, and sometimes, when dependent on man—or woman—they are neglected.

Another thing in favor of running at large is, they don't gorge themselves with any one thing. It's a peck here and another there. They like a variety; that is the secret of mixed grain food. I surely advocate mixed grains for best results.

Bowel Complaint in Children.

During the summer months children are subject to disorders of the bowels which should receive careful attention as soon as the first unnatural looseness of the bowels appears. The best medicine in use for bowel complaint is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as it promptly controls any unnatural looseness of the bowels, whether it be in a child or an adult. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists at Hopkinsville.

WHY SO WEAK?

Kidney Troubles May Be Sapping Your Life Away—Hopkinsville People Have Learned This Fact.

When a healthy man or woman begins to run down without apparent cause, becomes weak, languid, depressed, suffers backache, headache, dizzy spells, and urinary disorders, look to the kidneys for the cause of it all. Keep the kidneys well and they will keep you well. Doan's Kidney Pills cure sick kidneys. Here is Hopkinsville testimony to prove it:

James A. Twyman, brick mason, 1230 South Virginia St., says: "Disorders of the kidneys brought on in my case so sharp and continued a succession of pains and aches throughout my back that I could not rest comfortably at night and arose in the morning lame and sore. I was tired and worn out from morning to night. The kidney secretions were irregular, high-colored and scalding and deposited a heavy sediment if allowed to stand. I had no energy left and felt generally run down. I was feeling worse than usual when my attention was attracted by an advertisement of Doan's Kidney Pills and I got a box at L. A. Johnson's drug store and began using them. In a few days I noticed that the secretions had assumed a natural appearance and the pain and aching had been greatly relieved and by the time I had completed the box there was a wonderful change in my condition. I am glad to state that I am practically cured and Doan's Kidney Pills will be my friends for life."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50c. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Modest Claims Often Carry the Most Convictions.

When Maxim, the famous gun inventor, placed his gun before a committee of judges, he stated its carrying power to be much below what he felt sure the gun would accomplish. The result of the trial therefore was a great surprise, instead of disappointment. It is the same with the manufacturers of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. They do not publicly boast of all this remedy will accomplish, but prefer to let the users make the statements. What they do claim, is that it will positively cure diarrhoea, dysentery, pains in the stomach and bowels and has never been known to fail. For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists at Hopkinsville.

Cured a Chum of Cholera Morbus and Saved His Life.

"While returning from the Grand Army Encampment at Washington City, a comrade from Elgin, Ill., was taken with cholera morbus and was in a critical condition," says Mr. J. E. Houghland, of Eldon, Ia., "I gave him Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and believe it saved his life. I have been engaged for ten years in immigration work and conducted many parties to the south and west. I always carry this remedy and have used it successfully on many occasions. No person traveling or at home should be without this remedy." For sale by L. L. Elgin and Anderson & Fowler, the up-to-date druggists at Hopkinsville.
